

I moved to Ottawa in June, and I loved my new city. But, the weather has been depressing for two months now. I can't believe it's like this every year. In Italy, I used to grow many different kinds of vegetables in my garden. I can't grow any vegetables in my new apartment, especially not in the winter. Next summer, I will try to grow a few small tomato plants on my balcony. I used to love visiting my friends so much, but since moving here, I have not made very many friends. It makes me feel homesick sometimes. My friends and I used to talk about everything.....politics, sports, family, the weather, the news, you name it! But now, I am trying to improve my English, and I find it very difficult to express myself clearly. I used to have a very low paying job, but now I have a great job working for my Uncle. I make a lot more money now than I used to! I am hoping that in a few years, I will get used to the weather!

1. What did Anthony used to grow in his garden in Italy? What can he grow them now?
2. Who did Anthony used to visit in Italy? How does it make him feel?
3. What did he used to talk about with his friends? Why can't he do this anymore?
4. Does Anthony make more money now than he used to?
5. What does Anthony hope to get used to?

1. What did Anthony used to grow in his garden in Italy? What can he grow them now?
2. Who did Anthony used to visit in Italy? How does it make him feel?
3. What did he used to talk about with his friends? Why can't he do this anymore?
4. Does Anthony make more money now than he used to?
5. What does Anthony hope to get used to?

1. What did Anthony used to grow in his garden in Italy? What can he grow them now?
2. Who did Anthony used to visit in Italy? How does it make him feel?
3. What did he used to talk about with his friends? Why can't he do this anymore?
4. Does Anthony make more money now than he used to?
5. What does Anthony hope to get used to?